Are you tired of a job you could do in your sleep?

Would you prefer one that encourages use of your creative abilities?

Do you enjoy helping customers find something to match that cute little skirt?

Do you want to get home at a decent hour, to spend time with family and friends?

Do you love shopping and finding bargains?

Encore On Main is looking for saleswomen who dress professionally, show initiative, hard working, self motivated, and demonstrate strong interpersonal and team skills.

Encore On Main is seeking multi-tasking creative minds with the firm commitment to customer service and satisfaction that is required to be successful when working with our customers.

The position is for a Customer Service associate that has a minimum of 15 hrs week availability. Up to 35 hours/week may be available, but may vary based on our needs. Availability for the weekend is a plus. We are also open on Sunday, occasional Sunday afternoon may also be needed. At least 3 weekends per month are required, but hours and schedule can be flexible.

The schedule is generally the same week to week, however, as we are a small company, flexibility is needed occasionally to cover for sick associates, vacation, or other rare special requests. Additionally, previous experience with computers, including Point of Sale (Retail), Word Processing, programs is a strong plus.

INVENTORY ASSOCIATE

We also have Inventory Associates positions at Encore. If fashion, sales or computer skills are not your strong points. You may want to consider joining our Inventory Team. They are the team behind the scenes. This requires organizational skills as well as some light lifting. The Inventory Team gets everything prepared for the sales floor. This includes tagging, steaming, placing items on hangers, restocking merchandise, as well as light cleaning duties.

We are a small business and cannot offer such benefits as healthcare or paid vacations, but we do pay commensurate to your skill and hope to begin adding other benefits as our business grows. We also have generous employee discounts based on hours worked per month as well as higher consignor commissions. The ideal new-hire will help us reach the next level to where additional benefits and bonus packages will be possible and will be rewarded (along with all our associates) as we reach our goals.

If this sounds like the job you have been looking for,
we would very much like to meet with you.

Applications may be picked up at Encore or you may print them from our website.
